ANTH 429/529: JEWISH FOLKLORE AND ETHNOLOGY

What does it mean to be Jewish in cultural terms? This course focuses on the diversity of Jewish cultures, with an emphasis on Ashkenazic (East European) Jewish experiences and the contemporary Jewish diaspora in North America. A historical approach to identity explores the Holocaust and its representational controversies. Expressive culture, including narrative, proverbs, jokes, folk beliefs, rituals, holidays (calendrical and life cycle), food, customs, and music are analyzed with attention to tradition, innovation, and gender. Readings cover a variety of genres including scholarly articles, graphic novels, memoirs, folktales, and jokes. Guests and films supplement lecture and discussion.

I welcome questions and feedback via email, telephone, in writing, and in person during office hours. I have a comment bag available at every class. If you have a documented disability and need accommodation, please contact Disability Services.

Please turn off all mobile devices during class. Please, no texting. Computer use is permitted for class related activities, such as note taking. Plagiarism is not tolerated at the UO.

Respect for the instructor and fellow students is imperative. Some of the class materials may be controversial. It is important that we listen to and respond civilly to one another. I encourage everyone to participate and express their opinions freely.

The class utilizes a Canvas site. See Modules by date and topic for readings, handouts, outlines, and powerpoints. News articles are online with urls provided. Two glossaries of Yiddish words are provided under in Canvas Sept 30.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

1. Attendance (10%) and participation (10%). Please sign the attendance sheet. Participation includes classroom, office hours, and posting in Canvas Discussions. A food sign up sheet will be available for preparing and presenting about Jewish foodways.
2. Fieldwork assignment (15%) due Nov. 16. A one paragraph proposal for this project is due Oct. 12. See last page of syllabus.
3. Take-home essay midterm due Nov. 2 in class, and take-home essay final due Tuesday, December 8, 3 PM (32%+ 33%). Exams are distributed at least five days prior to the due date.
4. Graduate students: exam percentages are 22%+23%. Graduate students will write a research paper (10 pp., 20%), due Nov 30. A one-page proposal (with bibliography) is due Oct 12. The fieldwork project may be combined with the research paper with my approval. Graduate students will present their projects in class at a relevant time during the term (20 minutes).
Midterm and final exams will cover lectures, readings, and films. The final exam will emphasize material from the second half of the course. Exams and assignments must be submitted on time—under no circumstances will make-up exams or extensions be given without a documented excuse. Points will be deducted for late exams. If you will not be able to turn in an assignment on time, please notify me in advance.

Graduate student papers should be well documented and should contribute to their larger graduate goals; you will be expected to apply concepts encountered in discussions/readings. Students may incorporate fieldwork into their projects. Please see me for bibliographic assistance and to discuss project ideas.

FIELDWORK ASSIGNMENT - 3 pp. (Grad Students 4 pp.) double-spaced typed
Due Nov 16 in class.

Option I

Contact a member of your own family, a friend, or another person who was born in or grew up in an Eastern European Jewish environment, and discuss the following questions with them:

1. Where are you (or your relatives) from? What was the name of the town (exactly) where they grew up or lived (find it on a map)? Note the Yiddish name and the non-Jewish name(s).

2. What was the name of the country in Eastern Europe from which your informants or their relatives emigrated? Did the name of the country ever change? When?

3. What language(s) did they speak at home? To other Jews? To non-Jews?

4. What was it like growing up in your town?

5. FOR ALL OF THE ABOVE INFORMATION, designate the time period.

6. What are you (how do you identify yourself)? In what ways are you Jewish?

Option II

Contact a Jewish person of any age who is willing to talk to you about Jewish traditions:

1. Document the person's ancestry. Are there any foreign-born parents or grandparents? From where, when immigrated, etc.? Find this location on a map.

2. What holidays and life-cycle ceremonies do (did) you celebrate? How and why do you celebrate them?

3. In what ways do you consider yourself Jewish? What choices have you made about being Jewish?

Option III
Attend a Jewish celebration/event, e.g., Simkhas Torah, Sukkot, a wedding, Shabbat, bar/bas mitzvah, etc, and document the event. Interview at least one participant.

1. What are the roles enacted in this event? Who does what and why?

2. What are the major symbols associated with the ritual?

3. What meanings does the event have for each of the participants?
